Celebration of the Silver Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bates

Last Night

A Brilliant Company Present—The Toilet and Gifts

On March 10, 1857, at the residence of the bride's parents, at Springfield, Ill., John R. Bates, of Decatur, and Miss Margaret Wolcott, daughter of John Wolcott, were united in marriage by Rev. Wm. Minor. The bridegroom was then a young man, who, after a successful career in the business world, has since become a prominent citizen of Decatur. The bride was a young woman of exceptional beauty and intelligence, and the union has since been blessed with a large family. The celebration of their silver wedding was a most brilliant affair, and the guests were treated to a most delicious repast. The bride and groom were both dressed in the latest fashion, and the guests were all in the best of company. The celebration was a most successful one, and the guests were all well satisfied.

Soon after 8 o'clock the spacious and tastefully decorated parlors of the palatial residence were thronged with about 200 guests, who were received by Mr. and Mrs. Bates as they stood beneath a large floral house, over which were the silver figures "1857-1882," looped with gold and diamonds. Among those who were present were many of the prominent citizens of Decatur, and the guests were all well satisfied.

Below is a full and correct list of the guests who were present at the celebration of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bates, of Decatur, Ill., on March 10, 1857. The guests were all well satisfied, and the celebration was a most successful one.

A LITTLE LAW

Abolishing the Decatur Street Railway—What the Charter Says

Just now there is more or less talk among business men and the public generally about President Priest's purpose to extend the track of the Decatur Street Railway and Carrying Company from the New Deming Hotel, south across the Old Square past the St. Nicholas to Wood street, and many persons are taking opposite sides on the question. The matter was before the city council at its last session, but no decided action was taken on the petitioners' prayer asking permission to make the extension alluded to, but the question will be decided at a meeting in the near future.

On Nov. 14, 1876, the city council passed an ordinance, part of which reads as follows: "Be it ORDAINED, ETC., That the petitioners, authority and consent of the said City of Decatur, be and the same is hereby granted to the Decatur Street Railway and Carrying Company to construct, operate and maintain a single track for a railway, with all necessary and convenient tracks for turnouts, side tracks and switches in all of the following named streets in the said City of Decatur, to-wit: Commencing at the junction of East-Central, Toledo, Wabash & Western, and the Illinois Central, thence west along said East-Central street to North Main street, thence south along said North Main street, across the public square to the corner of the public square, then south to Greenwood Cemetery, and commencing with another branch of said railway at the junction of said North Main street and West Elmore street, thence west along West Elmore street to the city limits, and also commencing at the East Main street to the Illinois Central railway," be and the same is hereby granted to the Decatur Street Railway and Carrying Company.

Section 6 of this ordinance reads as follows: "The rights and privileges granted to said company by this ordinance shall be forfeited to said city unless said company shall by the first day of January, 1878, construct and put in operation said railway as in this ordinance specified. Under the ordinance the company has forfeited its rights to extend the road in any direction, provided the city desires to claim the forfeiture."

The following section is taken from the general law under which Decatur was incorporated as a city: "The city council in board of trustees shall have no power to grant the use of or the right to lay down any street or track in any street of the city to any person or persons, or to any company, except upon a petition of the owners of the land representing more than one-half of the frontage of the street, or so much thereof as is sought to be used for railroad purposes."

At the meeting of Mr. Priest at the last regular meeting of the council an ordinance was presented for adoption giving him until 1883 to make the extension of the line south across the Old Square to Wood. The ordinance was not adopted, but the matter was referred to the city attorney, with instructions to examine the charter and report at a subsequent meeting of the council.

Thus the matter stands at present, and what will be the next move remains to be developed. Mr. Priest has a large amount of new track, iron ready for use, and he desires to get across the Old Square so he can furnish better facilities for quick transit for the traveling public and on people as well. There are those who will work against him in his undertaking, but he will doubtless keep pushing it, until he is successful.

Below is a full and correct list of the guests who were present at the celebration of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bates, of Decatur, Ill., on March 10, 1857. The guests were all well satisfied, and the celebration was a most successful one.

PERSONAL MENTION

W. S. Bullard, of Michigan, is visiting relatives in the city.

John S. Hinner, of Springfield, arrived in the city this morning.

J. J. McNally, agent for the American Express, is in the city on an errand for this splendid outfit as for the occasion of the celebration of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bates, of Decatur, Ill., on March 10, 1857.

Ben. Davidson is engaged among other things, in publishing "The Light" for the third time at Decatur City. It is a copy of which has been sent to the printer, and will be ready for the press in a few days.

Dr. Hurd, President of the University of Chicago, will be in the city on Tuesday, March 11, to attend a conference with the Board of Trustees of the University of Chicago.

The 450 Winner. This foreman Mr. John F. Bennett, a farmer residing in the northeast of Oregon, came to Decatur and called at F. R. Bates & Co. clothing store, and presented the two tickets he held in the firm's late gift drawing. One of the tickets was numbered 7284 and it called for the capital prize, $20 in gold, which was handed to Mr. Bennett by Mr. W. H. Elwood, the bookkeeper. Mr. B. was quite gleeful over his good luck, and he at once spent $20 of his present for a new suit of clothes, getting four tickets in the $3 gift distribution.

Funeral Notice. The funeral services of Mrs. Maggie Sollars Caldwell will take place from the First M. E. church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Friends are invited to be present.

MARRIED. At Decatur, on March 9th by Rev. J. W. Priest, Mr. Joseph M. Roney and Miss Helen L. Roney, daughter of the late Edward Roney.

DECEMBER 11, 1892.

A DAYLIGHT SESSION.

Official Proceedings of Thursday's Meeting of the City Council at the City Hall.

DECEMBER 11, 1892.

The city council met at the council rooms March 9, 1892, at 9 a. m., pursuant to call of Ald. Shellabarger, Bramble and Moffitt. Present—Ald. Bramble, Gogerty, Hardy, Harwood, Kuny, Moffitt, Shellabarger and Shoemaker. Absent—Ald. Armstrong.

A quorum being present the council proceeded to business, Mayor Waggoner presiding.

The committee on public improvement and chairman of the committee on fire and water made the following report upon the communication of Engineers Barnett and Bramble, in relation to the condition of the pumps at the water works, which was, on motion, adopted:

"GENTLEMEN—We, the committee on public improvement, to whom was referred the within communication, would recommend after thorough examination that, in our opinion, it is absolutely necessary that immediate steps should be taken to supply the city with new pumps, as the old ones are working badly and at a great loss in fuel, besides the pumps are inadequate to supply the required amount of water. Your committee would, after obtaining all the information in regard to the different pumps, recommend the purchase of a Clapp & Jones duplex pump with condensing attachments, at a cost of about $8,000 all complete, under a guarantee of pumping capacity of 3,000,000 gallons per day.

D. S. SHELLABARGER, D. C. MOFFITT, Fred Kuny, Com. on Public Improvement.

W. H. BRAMBLE, Com. on Fire and Water.

Ald. Harwood offered the following resolution, which was decided in the negative:

"Resolved, That the mayor, city clerk, chairman of the committee on public improvement and chairman of the committee on fire and water, be instructed to make a contract with Messrs. Clapp & Jones for one duplex pump, capacity 3,000,000 gallons per day, not to exceed $8,000 in position for work.

Voting aye—Bramble, Harwood, Kuny, Moffitt, Shellabarger and Shoemaker. Voting nay—Gogerty and Hardy.

Ald. Harwood offered the following resolution, which was decided in the affirmative:

"Resolved, That the mayor, city clerk, chairman of the committee on public improvement and chairman of the committee on fire and water, be instructed to purchase a Clapp & Jones pump, at a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons per day, not to exceed $8,000 in position for work not to exceed $8,000.

On motion the council adjourned.

G. P. HARRY, City Clerk.

THEIR STYLE UP HOME.

Detroit Free Press.

One of the members of the Michigan legislature of 1885—came down to Lansing wearing a coon-skin cap, a deer-skin overcoat and buffalo-skin overboots, and he brought with him certain traits of character which at once singled him out from the bald-headed bankers, the bent-backed farmers and the gesticulating lawyers who were gathered to impose new burdens on the state. This particular member was named Rush, and though he had nothing to say for the first few days, it was plain to see that he would show his hand when called. One day he arose and began speaking on a matter already disposed of, but the speaker interrupted with:

"There is no question before the house."

Rush waited a moment and then continued his speech as if nothing had happened, and again the speaker notified him that there was no question before the house. If the member heard he did not take warning, and this time the speaker called out, with a sharp rap from his gavel:

"There is no question before the house!"

"There ain't eh? Here we've been pegging in and fooling around for two whole weeks, and haven't even got a question before the house! Mr. Speaker, this isn't our style up home. Why sir, I can name six one-horse men in town who'd get a question before this house in less than fifteen minutes, and here are over a hundred of us taking things as easy as if we had a sure job of six months. I move you, sir, that a committee be appointed to bring in a question, right off now, and that we keep the thing right here until we scatter for home!"

Never Give Up.

Colored Men as Curiousities.

Of the Russian Jewish refugees who arrived in Philadelphia a few days ago, the Record says: Most of the refugees never saw a colored man until they landed in this country, and when two of the dusky gentlemen stepped in yesterday to take a look they created considerable excitement.

"What's the matter with those men?" asked one of the refugees of a committee man.

"Nothing," was the answer.

"Ain't they sick?" was asked.

"No," the committee man answered.

"Well, what makes them so black?" the inquiry came.

"They are negroes," replied the committee man.

The foreigner shook his head and proceeded to examine the colored man more closely. A crowd soon gathered around and enjoyed the sight immensely. Some of them shook hands with the Africans, but the most refused, and shrunk when the dusky hands were offered them.

The children and some of the women ran in alarm when the colored men approached them. The youngsters clung in terror to the skirts of their mothers, while the adult females were not so certain but that the darkies were sent in the room to scare them or eat them up.
